 Listen to Radio 3 or Classic FM.	 Watch a performance of the Rite of Spring.	 Listen to two different Beethoven Symphonies.
 Watch an opera screening at the cinema	 Make a playlist of the 10 most important works for your first instrument and listen to as many versions as possible. Can you learn any of them?	 Enter yourself for Grade 5 or 6 theory
 Research the life and works of one of the most famous classical composers.	 Write a diary entry from the perspective of a composer you have studied or researched, whilst they were composing a particular piece. Try to imagine their thought processes and inspiration.	 Analyse a short piece of music from the Baroque, Classical or Romantic era noting the key features of harmony, melody, structure and instrumentation.
 Read a concert review (you could look on Classic FM or the BBC pages to help find one.)	 ‘Music: A Very Short Introduction’ by Cook	 ‘An Introduction to Music Studies’ by Harper Scott and Samson
